The hotel has been working diligently during its closure to develop The New Exceptional, Rosewood Baha Mar's new sequence of service standards. The program ensures staff are trained to the highest level, aligned with the new health landscape, while maintaining the impeccable and effortless service guests expect from the property. The highly anticipated reopening comes along with an exciting new restaurant led by globally renowned Chef Daniel Boulud, Café Boulud The Bahamas.

"We are thrilled to be welcoming guests back to our one-of-a-kind island destination after all this time," said Luigi Romaniello, Managing Director of Rosewood Baha Mar. "Our team has been working round the clock to ensure guests feel confident and all expectations are exceeded from our new health and safety programs, to the opening of Café Boulud The Bahamas; a partnership that will perfectly blend Chef Daniel's creative French cuisine with quintessential Bahamian ingredients."

With testing of vital importance to travel in 2021, the hotel will house a dedicated on-property testing center, allowing guests to receive complimentary COVID-19 Antigen and when required, RT-PCR tests. The property will facilitate quarantine should guests test positive on the resort, with courtesy suite accommodations and a daily resort dining credit of $150 per person per day for up to 14 days or until the guest receives a negative COVID-19 result. Having the peace of mind guaranteed, guests can return to Rosewood Baha Mar's elegant island sanctuary and enjoy new tastes being served at Café Boulud The Bahamas. The menu at the new restaurant will feature some classical French dishes synonymous with Chef Daniel, while incorporating local ingredients and flavors, exemplifying Rosewood's A Sense of Place philosophy. Locally sourced ingredients will be used throughout the menu to include market-inspired dishes such as the Yellowfin Tuna Carpaccio and Strawberry Grouper. Some of Chef Daniel's signature dishes include French classics such as the Tournedos Rossini Beef Tenderloin served with Pomme Dauphine and a Black Truffle Sauce.
